

Concepts of Print Activities

Jennifer Tilton

www.kindertrips.blogspot.com

Use these activities to help your students discriminate between a letter, number, word and a sentence.

Included are:

1. Cards to sort for letters, numbers, words, and sentences. Use the pocket chart and have students help you sort the cards.
2. Worksheets for students to color the letter, word, number or sentence.
3. Letters in my name/not in my name worksheet. Just write the letters in the student's name in the boxes and then some letters as distractors.

word

letter

number sentence

A

T

Z

h

m k

cat

see

am

mom

dog

red

2

10

8

16

4

7

I see the cat.

I am happy.

Can you run?

I can jump.

Look, a bat.

I love school.

Name _____

Color the boxes the correct color.

a

letters- blue words- red sentences- green

see

I like the dog.

M

Q

am

T

I see the cat.

z

can

h

I can read.

Name _____

Color the boxes the correct color.

letters- red numbers-blue

2

B

12

4

e

10

Z

M

t

8

h

5

19

These sheets can be used for independent practice.

There is a T-Chart for the students to glue the letters in and not in their names. Then I made several sheets of the boxes that you can write the letters in. There is a sheet with one row of boxes for the shorter names, one with two rows and one with three rows for names with many letters.

Name _____

Letters in my name

Letters not in my name

